

Nature Remembers Motion

Electra pulled a ribbon.
The ribbon made a line.

Poz rolled the red ball.
The ball went away.

The ball was over there.
The trail was still here.

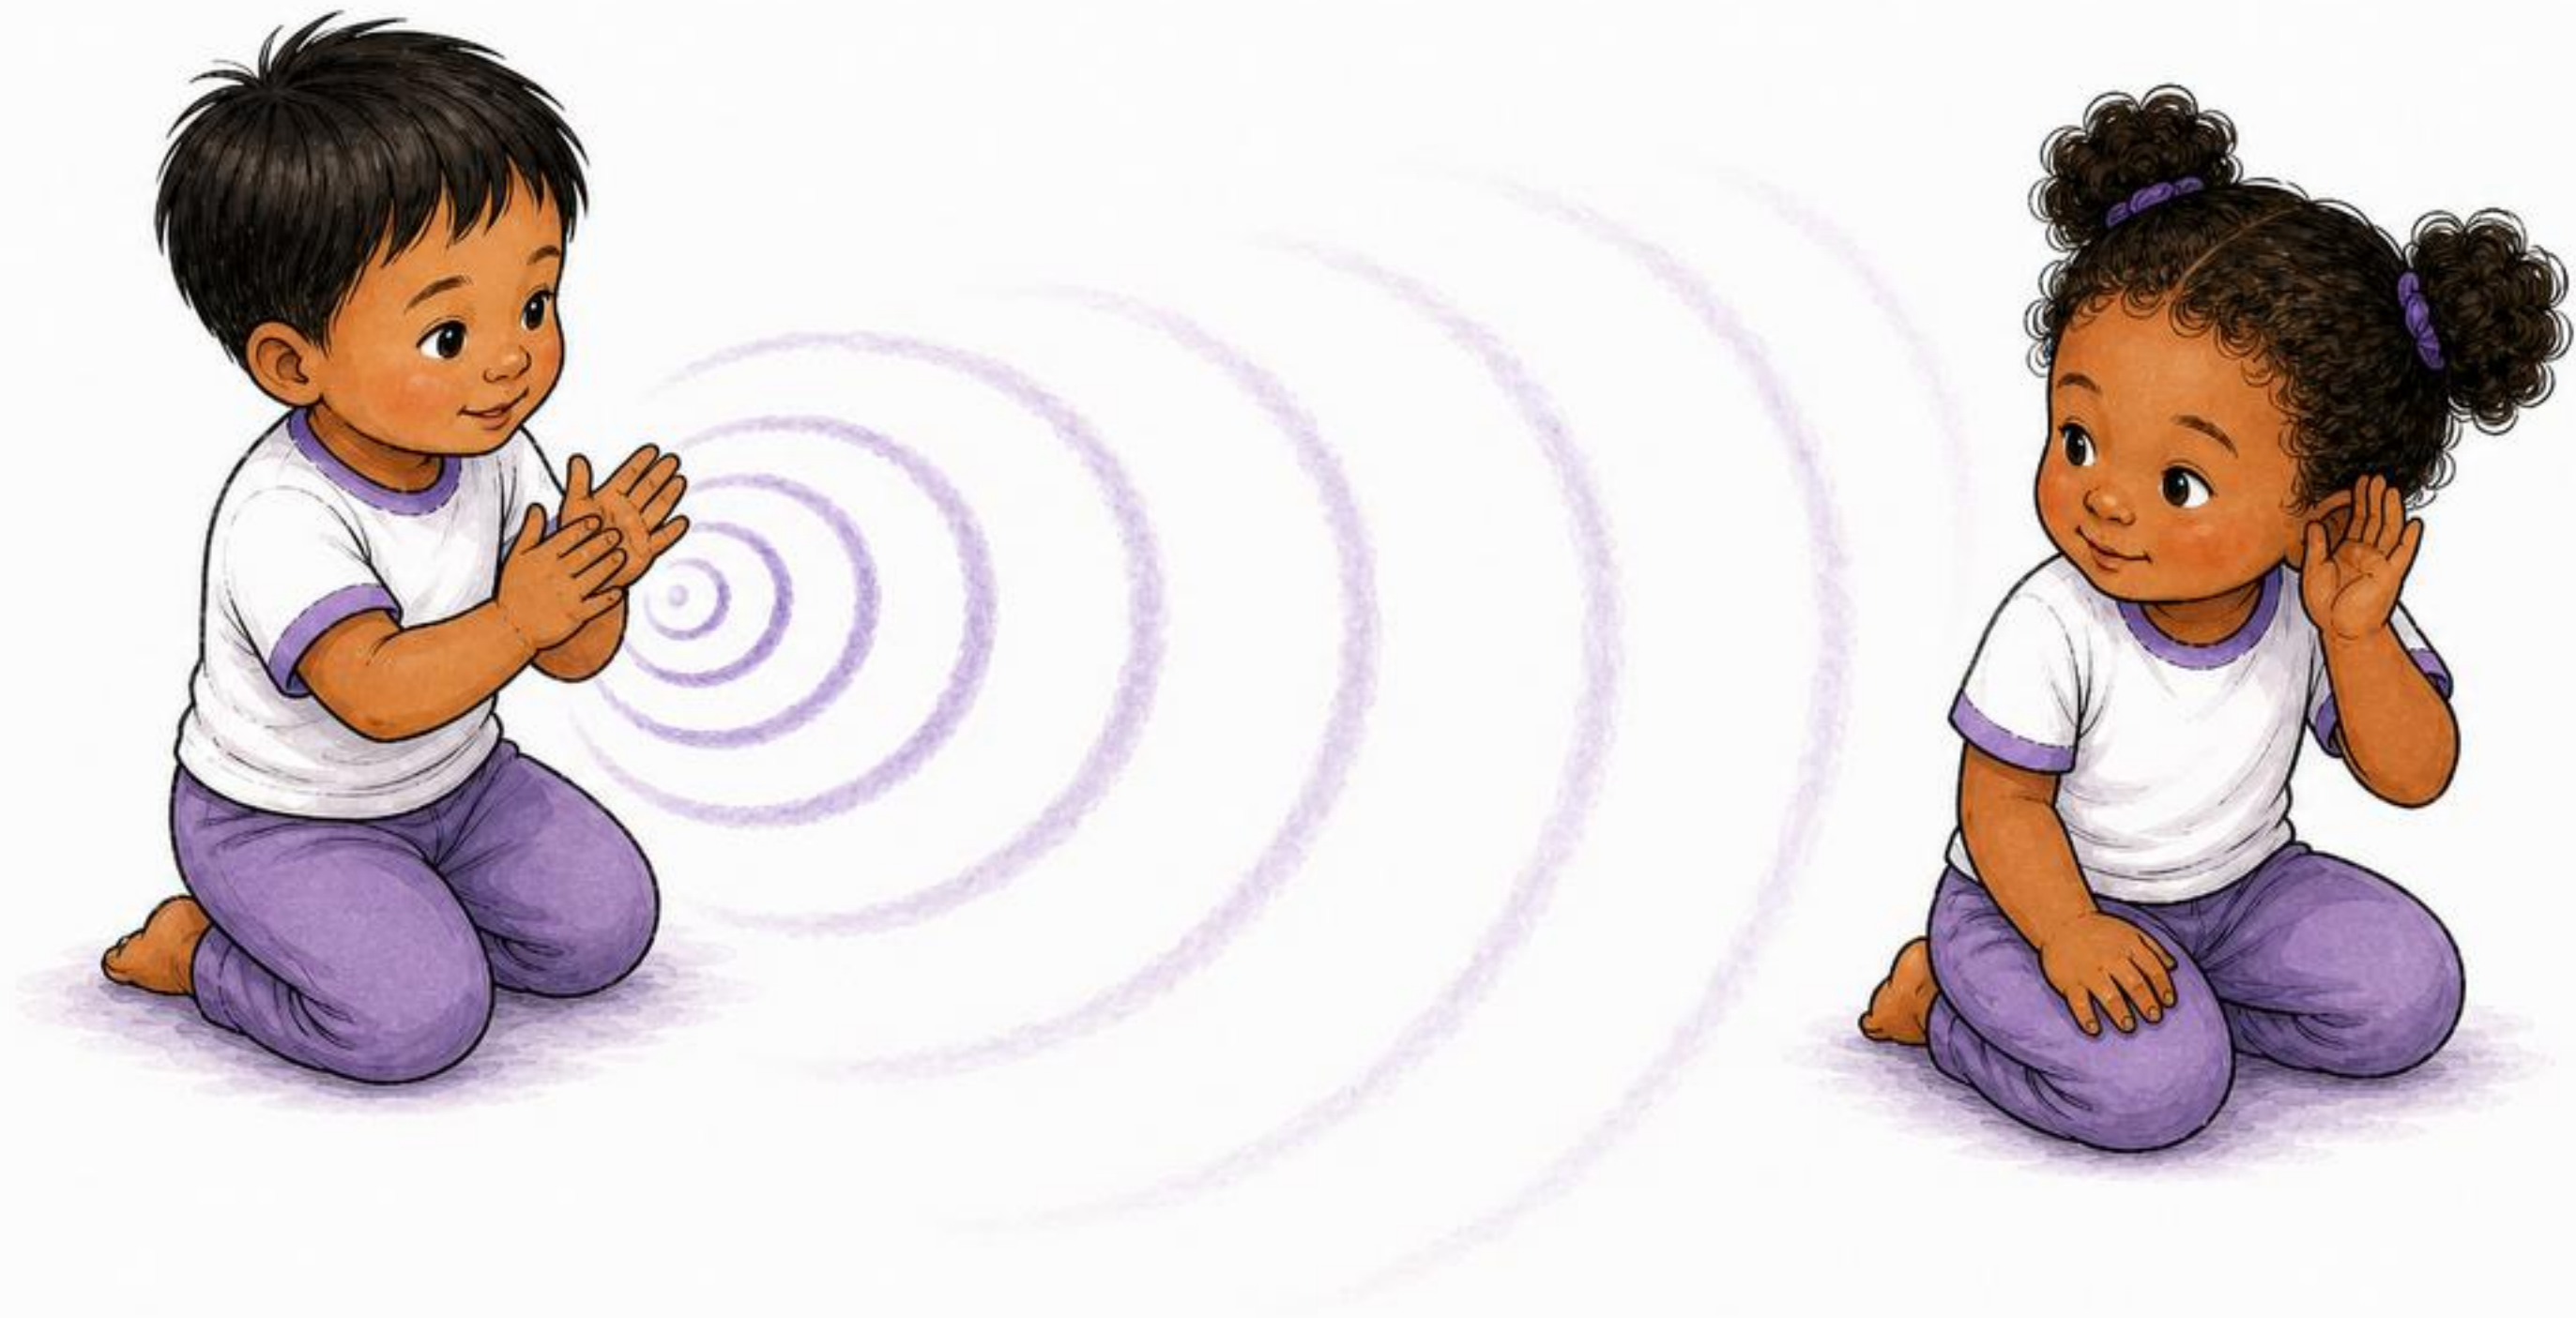

This part came first.
That part came next.

Some parts were close.
Some parts were far.

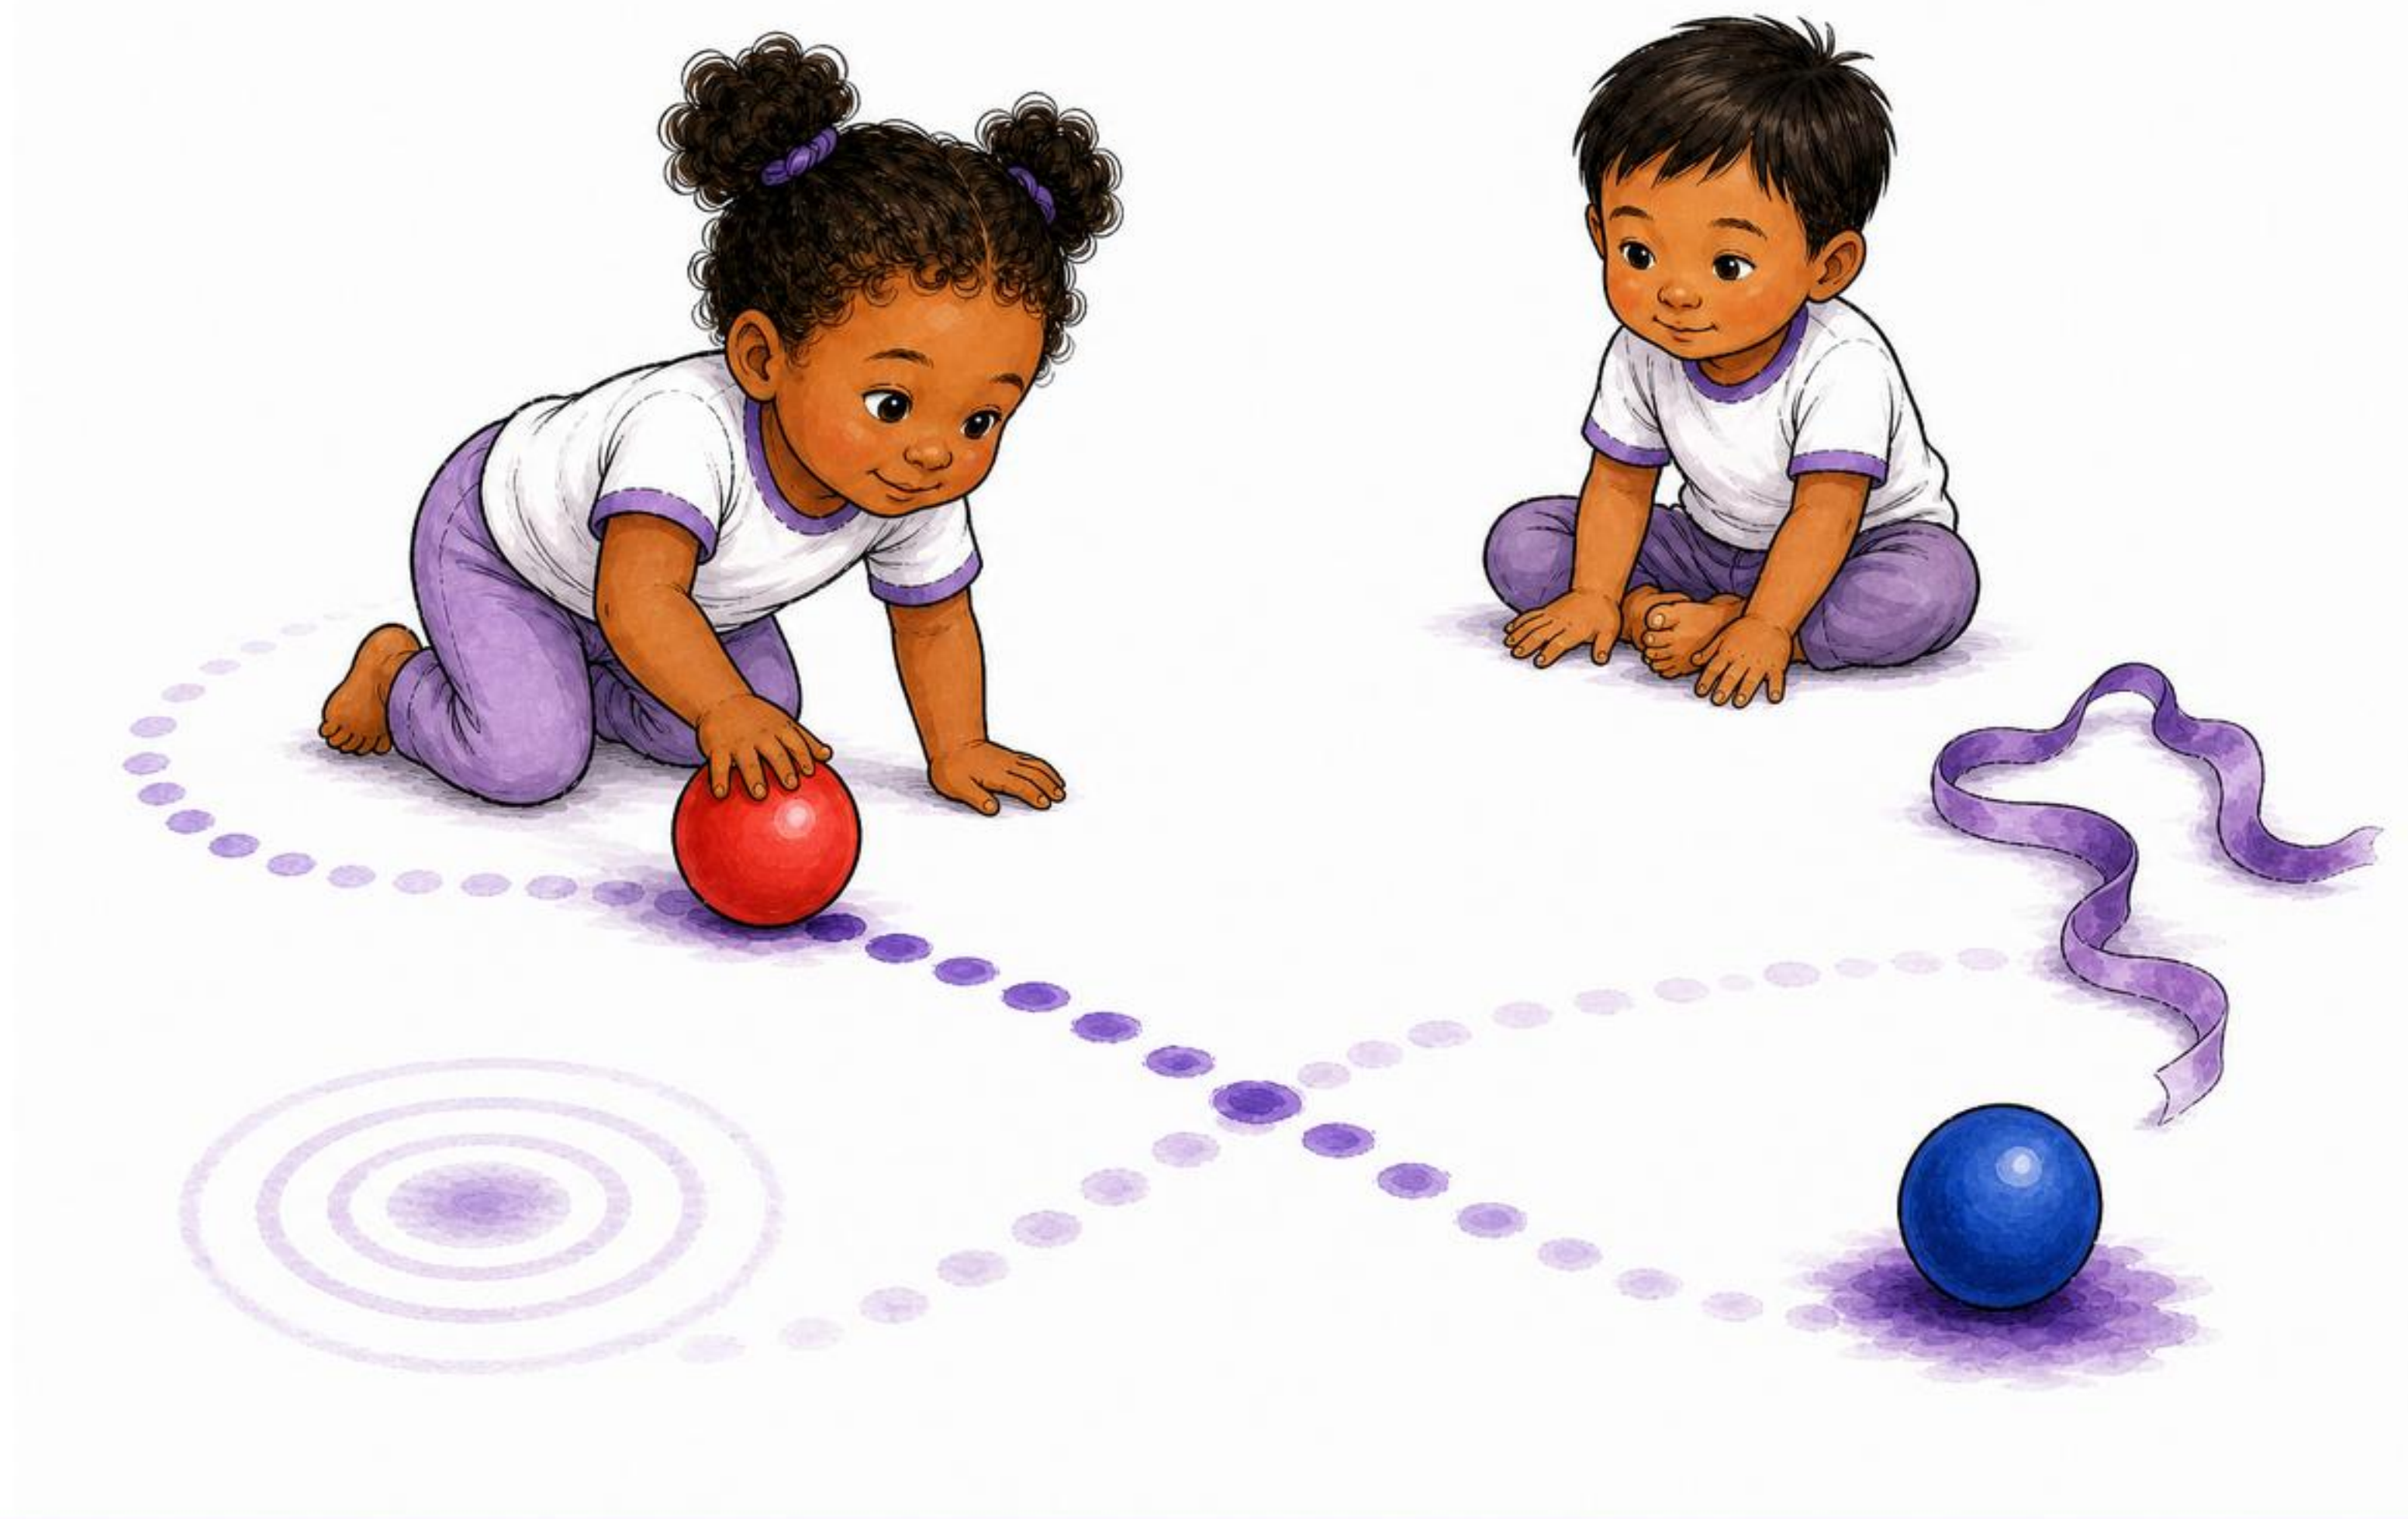

Electra tapped the water.
Circles grew from the tap.

Poz clapped.
Electra heard it after.

Poz walked past the light.
The shadow walked too.

Electra turned around.
The new trail met the old trail.

"Can we find where it went?"
Poz followed the trail.

Ribbon.
Water.
Sound.
Shadow.
They all showed motion.

It moved.
The world remembered.

Make a trail.
Follow it.
Again.
